

Ghosts of the Past

On the left, Martha, the last passenger pigeon. On the right, a young ivory-billed woodpecker lands on the hat of a game warden.

Congaree was the home to many extinct species such as the Ivory-Billed Woodpecker, Carolina Parakeet, Bachman's Warbler, and Passenger Pigeon. Each of these species went extinct for a variety of reasons but their contributions to the ecosystem and species diversity will be greatly missed.

Wings Across South Carolina 2016 Bioblitz

Bachman's Warbler

Passenger Pigeon

Ivory-Billed Woodpecker

Carolina Parakeet